PART C – READING

I. Read the following passage and choose the right option to answer the question or to finish the sentences. Write your answers (A, B, C or D) in the answer sheet.

Although Paris is often considered the city of romance, there are about a million of single adults living there. Many of them say that France's capital is one of the most difficult places to meet people. This complaints has suggested a phenomenon known as "supermarket dating."

At Galerie Lafayette Gourmet, singles can shop for more than just the items on their grocery list. They can look for someone who has blue eyes, brown hair, and is 1.8 meter tall, or whatever may be on their romantic shopping list. At this location, single people of all ages can schedule their shopping for Thursday nights between 6:30 and 9:00 P.M. When they walk through the door, they pick up a purple basket to advertise that they are looking for love. They try to arrive early because the baskets disappear quickly, and then they have to wait in line for their turn to wander the store aisles. With purple baskets in hand, shoppers can consider their romantic options while they pick out their groceries. When they are ready to pay, they can go to the checkout line that is especially for singles to chat.

Most of the people who look for love in the supermarket do not trust Internet dating. They know that it is easy to lie about one's appearance or age over the Internet. In addition, things in people's grocery baskets can say something about their character or intentions. Buying pet food can be a man with sensitive sides. Women who fill their baskets with low-fat food show their healthy style of living. These days it's possible to find much more than food at a grocery store.

1. What is the passage mainly about?
- A. Grocery shopping.                      B. The best store in Paris.
